

These rules may have been written for times past, but they seem to still be serving us well. We want more diversity in news, not less. Don't meddle unless you do it in the open and the public gets to comment. This secret stuff is not the way democracy works. When too few own too many outlets, like now, they can keep secrets, like you tried to do with these changes. STOP!!